The Late Jannet Mudavanhu

It is with sadness that I inform you of the death of Rev Jannet Mudavanhu.

At Jannet’s commissioning service with Trinity Union Parish, she sang her favourite hymn – This Little Light of Mine. During this last week Jannet’s sister Tendai has spoken of her calling to serve God and to be a light in this world. Her ministries here in Aotearoa has been known for her ability to work pastorally with people and in support of people. Jannet’s ministries at Hutt City Uniting Congregations, Beckenham, and Trinity Union Parish were defined by her pastoral heart. During this last year Jannet embarked on further studies to better her understanding of pastoral theology and to equip herself for contemporary pastoral ministry. She was excited about a new ministry appointment in Taranaki. Jannet’s desire to be a light for others has continued in death as she was an organ donor. Her light will continue to shine through those she has helped in life and in death and of course all her family and friends.

Funeral Arrangements of the Late Jannet Mudavanhu

Will be held at 10:30am on Thursday 14th November, Wesley Church, 75 Taranaki Street, Wellington. The funeral will be live streamed and details for live stream will be circulated closer to the time.

Please note there will be no parking available on site, but there are parking buildings in close proximity to the church.
